

Try to be a rainbow in someone else's cloud

I like this quote because I find it very nice. What this quote means to me is that if one of your friends is having a bad day, being a rainbow is making them feel better.

I chose this quote because it felt right and it seems like a very nice quote to spread kindness.

It's important to spread kindness anywhere even with these quotes. If someone is feeling glum, help them out by asking them what's wrong.
